To be a Goddess, a woman must give herself all the love, kindness, affection, admiration, respect and care that she has.

A Goddess exudes the energy of passion, authenticity, and enthusiasm, which is attractive, inspiring, and contagious. She has within her a certain “quality” that everyone gravitates to but cannot necessarily name “it”. ## Dr. Edith Eger's Interview

Her ability to see the positive even in the grim reality and adversity and make THE CHOICE to move forward in her life and instill that for others to move forward and look at how special they are, there is no one else like them and to think positively each day

LESSONS I HAVE LEARNED FROM DR. EDITH EGER-I

learned to not sweat the small stuff and look to each day as an opportunity for a new positive change. I understand better now from Dr Eger that we cannot control the day but we can control how we react and respond to the days events.

ACTIVITY TO TRY EACH DAY

Dr. Edith Eger taught me to look in the mirror each morning and say how special I am and make that choice of how I will want my day to go and how I'm choosing to react to things in my day. When you look in the mirror say to yourself that you are the only person like you, you are grateful for your body, mind and spirit, You may also want to try to put sticky pads with daily affirmations on them. WORDS AND AFFIRMATIONS HAVE POWER!

Dr Eger- “you cannot give what you don’t have, love yourself so you can love others, rather than saying yes, say yes and, anger takes away your power, underneath anger is a lot of pain, take anxiety and turn it into excitement, see what you are holding on to and what you are willing to let go of, we are not born to hate, we need to get rid of the us versus them mentality, use the motto-” up until now I did and now I will”!

SELF CARE REWARD- Dr. Edith Eger loved to dance. Dance is a powerful way to release endorphins and help you to feel good. Turn on some tunes and dance dance dance!!

SUSAN KING

Her ability to use her intuition to read people and predict events. She can tap into her feelings and sense emotions, pictures, events for a person. Trust yourself as your intuition is never wrong,

Susan King- "A truly balanced mind, body and spirit can create a sanctuary that supports our well being and our health, if you have a strong belief in something that you feel, no matter what that is, it is going to work, intuition is knowing without knowing, the law of attraction equals being positive about what you want to do in life or what you want to achieve, you achieve things by little steps not big steps, the inner goddess is a woman's way of becoming more aware of who she is, the soul and being within, it is important to hear, adapt believe, and see the silver linings in things if you can,"

LESSON I LEARNED FROM SUSAN-I learned from Susan King that we all have the ability to use our intuition, feel the gut feelings and all we need to do, is feel it and act on it.

ACTIVITY TO TRY EACH DAY- Carry around a small notebook and jot down your first impressions. Record any physical mental or spiritual feelings you have. At the end of the day, reflect back and see if anything resonated or made sense to you. After a week, see if you have any trends and see if you realize it is your body, mind, or spirit that is the most intuitive for you. Pay attention in the days ahead to how you are intuitively connected.

SHILPA ALVA- She is able to connect with people and create change, life-saving change in communities and she can inspire people to join her mission.

Shilpa Alva's lesson is we all can live a purposeful driven life and reclaim our dreams if we choose to go with our passions and provide service to others.

If you would like to learn more about Shilpa and her mission listen or watch the podcast here (link)

LESSONS LEARNED FROM SHILPA-I learned from Shilpa that if we want to find our calling, we may need to test that out, while making sure we have a solid base like income etc, but we can do service for others and this will allow us to feel good and create change. It might feel uncomfortable or weird, but if we ignore that, we will never know. The fear we may feel, is always less than we make it out to be and Shilpa is a great example of living in her purpose.

Shilpa Alva—“ if your living in alignment with your purpose, the entire universe will conspire to help you, it is cool to sit with the uncomfortable, fear and uncertainty, there is excitement and creativity that can come out of that, when your in a comfortable spot, you dont care, a lot of people have heard their calling but they have refused to hear it, once you know who you are from the deepest level, then thats all that matters, and whatever you do is easier. The fear in our heads is always less than we make it out to be”.

ACTIVITY—Do something for someone today— smile at the barista who makes your coffee, make cookies and take to a neighbor, give out gratitude messages to people who help you today, Pay attention to how you feel today after you help others.

SELF CARE REWARD— donate to your favorite charity even a small amount, see how you feel?
